Review Wary Spar Site Plan/Subdivision Review Application

Before resuming the review of the completeness of the Wary Spar Project site plan review and subdivision applications, Curt Murley noted that the provisions of our Land Use Ordinance seem to imply that Appeals Board action on a conditional use permit is required before the Planning Board can act on a site plan review application that requires a conditional use permit. To support this interpretation of the Land Use Ordinance Mr. Murley pointed out that Article 10.3.D.12 states that "Where the approval of the Zoning Board of Appeals is required, such approval must be obtained before the Planning Board undertakes consideration of an application for Site Plan Review.". To further support this interpretation Mr. Murley pointed to sections B(1), C(2) and E of Article 13.6 dealing with the Appeals Board procedure for handling applications for conditional use permits. Mr. Murley went on to note that the applicant was advised by our town attorney in a letter dated September 5, 2007 (see attachment #2 to these minutes) that in his opinion the Appeals Board would not have enough information to act on his conditional use permit request until the Planning Board had acted on the site plan and subdivision review applications. The board generally agreed that there is some doubt as to the precedence of action by the Appeals and Planning Board in this case and asked the Chair to request clarification of the advice given by the town attorney to the applicant in the September 5, 2007 letter.

Review of the completeness of the Wary Spar Project resumed at Article 3.9.E of the Land Use Ordinance using as a guide the document titled "Wary Spar Project Site Plan and Subdivision Review – Applicable Criteria, Performance Standards and Requirements" (see attachment #3 to these minutes).
